

Una mano en español

*RECOMENDACIONES, RECURSOS Y TRUCOS PARA PRACTICAR ESPAÑOL
RECOMMANDATIONS, TUYAUX ET RESSOURCES POUR PRATIQUER L'ESPAGNOL
SUGGESTIONS, TIPS AND RESOURCES TO PRACTICE SPANISH*

A summary

pages and contents

How can I practice my Spanish online? Where can I find free exercises and free materials to learn? How can I get to know more about Spain and Latin American countries? How can I practice listening and reading?

Here's a list with lots of ideas to learn, practice and improve your Spanish, whatever your level in...Including lots of tips and ideas, audio practice, free materials, free online exercises, recommended movies, music, books, Spanish blogs, podcasts, TV shows and radio stations.

There are four sections:

A).GENERAL TIPS:

Recommended websites and blogs, exercise sites, general tips, slang, resources and suggestions for all levels

Pages 3-5

B).BEGINNER AND ELEMENTARY:

Tips, recommendations and resources for those who are beginning to learn

Page 6

C).INTERMEDIATE AND ADVANCED:

Tips, recommendations and resources for those who already know a bit and want to practice and improve.

Pages 7-10

D).SOME ADVICES FOR SPANISH STUDENTS

Some piece of advice that I give as a language student

Page 11

E).THE SPANISH WORLD:

Everything about Spanish and Latin American culture, including literature, recommended movies, recipes, documentaries, music, TV and radio shows and tips on history, society, travelling, cooking...

Pages 12-13

★ Websites and blogs to help you learn Spanish:

- Of course, first of all, I recommend my own blog, marianogueira.net, and my own online language school, elinqua.com, where you will find lots of recommendations, podcasts, free exercises, interesting links, free materials, downloadable PDFs to help you learn, infographics, videos and many others.
- Aprende español, a great website with news, music, listening exercises, and recommendations... Everything you need to practice your skills in Spanish.
- Profe de ELE, a great blog, both for students and for teachers.
- Red Molinos, a great website with lots of useful links, reading texts and vocabulary tips to learn Spanish.
- Mi vida loca: a website from the BBC, with exercises and audios, ideal for beginners.

★ Free online exercises (with answers and explanations):

- Ver-Taal, a very complete site where you will find grammar, spelling and vocabulary exercises, as well as listening activities, to learn French, Dutch, English and, of course, Spanish.
- Espagnol facile, pour les francophones.

★ Free online dictionaries:

- Wordreference, the best online dictionary.
- Linguee, a different dictionary. It let you find any word but inserted in a context. It might be very useful if you are translating.
- DRAE, the best monolingual dictionary in Spanish. Tiene la garantía y el rigor de la Real Academia Española, la mayor institución lingüística en el mundo hispano. Eso sí, no recoge palabras muy coloquiales o de reciente creación.
- Diccionario Panhispánico de Dudas, para dudas de la lengua.
- Forvo, a pronunciation dictionary that works also as social network, where everybody can participate. It may be interesting not only to learn how to pronounce words in Spanish, but also to compare pronunciations within the Spanish speaking world.

★ Specialized magazines to learn Spanish:

- Punto y Coma: a magazine especially made for Spanish students, with lots of interesting tips that will guide you through different articles. You can buy it in shops, order it online or get a subscription. This is ideal for students who have an elementary, intermediate or pre-intermediate level and who still find newspapers and magazines a bit hard to understand.
- Ecos: a great magazine with lots of interesting articles about different topics related to the Spanish world. This is a magazine that is edited in Germany, so it's addressed initially to a German speaking public. However, anyone who has an intermediate level of Spanish can read it.

★ Libraries and bookstores:

If you are looking for books to learn Spanish, you can go to your neighborhood library, or, if you live in a big city (Munich, Warsaw, Paris, Toulouse, Lisboa, Beijing, Rome...), you can go to the Instituto Cervantes' library. It's free! If this doesn't work, there's always Amazon. If you have a kindle, it's cheap to get a book in Amazon.

★ Listening and podcast:

Podcasts are one of the biggest revolutions of today's language learning. Thanks to the Internet, we can access podcasts from all the radios in the world. We can easily find podcasts from Spain or any other country.

First, what's a podcast?

A podcast is a sort of an online audio, or, in other words, a radio program or radio broadcast. For example, BBC has different channels; every channel has many broadcasts or "chapters". Of course, you can listen to them directly by turning your radio on. But for example, if you miss BBC New today, no problem! Just go to the program's site on the Internet and you will find a complete list with the latest chapters. Look for the one you missed and you can listen to it on streaming or download it for later. That's a podcast, and the great thing of all is that you can listen to any podcast of any radio on the world, at any moment, and totally free!

Moreover, many people, companies and so on have created their own "audios" that they share on the Internet as a podcast. Many of them have an excellent quality, so it is not just public radio, like BBC or Radio France; it's much more than that.

Down below you will find some podcast suggestions in Spanish!

How can we get podcasts?

There are many options, so let's take a look at them:

○ On streaming:

We can listen to them directly on streaming. To do so, we just need to look for the podcast site (for example, let's say TED Talks), choose a chapter and listen to it then and there. Of course, you can also save your favorite sites thanks to Mozilla, Chrome... Then we would just need to go to the site and hear to the audio online. of course! You can also go to the podcast site, choose the chapters you like and download them to your desktop, and for free! Then you can listen to them later.

○ Mobile apps:

The best option to listen podcast. There are different apps that we can install for free on our smart phone, iPhone, tablet or iPad. In my opinion, the best of all are iTunes and Podcast Republic (although, for example, most iPhones come with a podcast app already installed). It's free to download these apps; you can easily install them and then you search for podcasts in any language by setting a language filter. You can subscribe to any podcast, in any language, and download the latest episode.

○ On our PC or Mac:

You can also subscribe to any podcast by using a free application that you can download from the Internet at any moment. There are two platforms that you can use for this purpose: Juice (a good free software platform, although it's has an ugly interface), and of course, iTunes (free to download and use, with a nice interface and the advantage that is can also be used as a music player and store). You can download Juice from here; to download iTunes, click here.

★ Blogs to read:

Reading blogs of any subject can help you improve substantially your reading skills and vocabulary, and, at the same time, it's a very interesting occupation! Down below you will find a list of the best blogs to read in Spanish.

A great way to read all the new posts that are published on a blog is by subscribing to the blog. To do so, there are different applications and platforms that work as “aggregators”, that is, is a place that holds and updates all the new contents automatically, according to your priorities. Here are a few suggestion of applications that you can use:

- Netvibes (an online free application), probably the best of all.
- Google Reader
- Feed Reader (an excellent platform; it is totally; you have to download it to your computer; it has an ugly interface, but it's excellent).

Down below you will find some podcast suggestions in Spanish!

★ Some musts:

- Instituto Cervantes, the official website, available both in Spanish and English
- DELE, an IC section where you will find all about the DELE exams (how to register, what it is about, examination centers and more). Available in Spanish and English.
- TODOELE, a site for ELE teachers, but good for students too.
- Others...

(b).Beginner and elementary some tips

★ Free online exercises (with answers and explanations):

- Ver-Taal, a very complete site where you will find grammar, spelling and vocabulary exercises, as well as listening activities, to learn French, Dutch, English and, of course, Spanish.
- Espagnol facile, un site web avec des exercices gratuits, spécialement faits pour les francophones.

★ Vocabulary flashcards:

- Quizlet, a fantastic place where you can revise and learn new vocabulary (in Spanish and in other languages). You can download flashcards that other people have made, or make your own flashcards. There are plenty vocabulary exercises and you can download and print all the flashcards at any time.
- Anki App, a great way to use flashcards (by downloading or creating new flashcards); you can revise them and order them the way you want, add images and so on. Anki App is free, and you can use it in iPhones and Android.

★ Listening, podcast, radio and audioblogs:

There are lots of free podcasts that are especially made for students and that you can listen to in order to practice your Spanish, even if you just started learning. Here are some ideas:

- Spanish Podcast: a blog with lots of podcast for Spanish students.
- Notes in Spanish for beginners: an audio blog with lots of easy-to-listen podcasts and listening exercises for beginners.
- Podcast from Spain: a blog with video and audio especially made for students.
- Coffee Break Spanish: a blog with free and not free lessons and podcasts.
- News in slow Spanish. A website that offers different resources for Spanish students, but particularly audio exercises and podcasts.

These podcasts are focused on the world's news, but the people there talk in a slow clear Spanish, that even beginners can properly understand. To access some of the contents you will be required to have a premium account, but still, there are plenty of them that you can use (especially audio and transcriptions). It has also an app that you can download to your smartphone or tablet.

★ Mobile apps:

Mobile apps are nowadays a great tool to practice language in an easy funny way. Check out these. Most of them offer a free version and a premium version with extra features:

- Duolingo
- Learn Spanish
- Conjugation nation
- Babbel
- Spanish Verbs
- Qué onda

★ Grammar books:

- Gramática básica del español (niveles A1 - B1), Ed.Difusión. This is the best grammar book to learn about Spanish grammar, either with a teacher or on your own. Get it on Amazon or at the library.

★ TV and video:

- Learner.org has TV series and other shows especially made for Spanish students at elementary and intermediate level. A good one to watch is El destino.

c). Intermediate/advanced

some tips

7

★ Places to find podcast y audios:

Here are some places or portals to look for podcasts:

- IVOOX, portal de Internet que incluye MUCHÍSIMOS podcasts y audiolibros en español, sobre todos los temas e intereses. También incluye audiolibros y películas para ciegos.
- Notes in Spanish, excellent blog with podcasts in Spanish, ordered by levels.
- Spanish Podcast: a blog with lots of podcast for Spanish students.
- Podium Podcast, a podcast portal created by Spanish group PRISA which includes some of the best podcast in Spanish (mostly from Spain and Mexico).
- Revista Trabalenguas: audioblog y revista online, realizada por profesores de español (donde yo participo también), con audios cortos y artículos variados.
- Podcasts from Radio Nacional de España \(RNE\), where you can hear and download all the contents that are broadcasted by Spanish public radio (Radio Nacional de España or RNE).

★ Recommended podcasts:

A list of some suggestions of podcast to listen to (I've written my favorites in bold and in brown you will find podcast that are discontinued but still good to listen ;)

Humor: Monólogos La vida moderna El mundo today Oh my LOL! Levántate y Cárdenas	History: La contrahistoria Biografías SER Historia Documentos RNE La historia deconstruida	Cinema: Esta peli ya la he visto Podcinema El octavo pasajero
Philosophy, anthropology and social science: Filosofía aquí y ahora La linterna de Diógenes	Miscellaneous: El abrazo del oso El Gabinete del Doctor Zagal La redada	Language and Literature: La milana bonita Los búfalos nocturnos
Business and economy: Economía Directa TelTalks Negocios Economía para todos Marketing online	News and politics: Carne cruda La contracrónica CNN en español	TV and series : Fuera de series Oh! TV Factoría Netflix
Fiction: El club del terror El gran apagón	Technology and Geek: Hello Friki La órbita de Endor Fallo del sistema	Science: TedTalks Ciencia y Medicina Ciencia al cubo Redes A hombros de gigantes La Buhardilla
Audiobooks: Portal de audiolibros LibriVOX	Feminism, LGBT and sexuality: Cuestión de gustos
Hobbies and sports: Vid ludica (board games)	Paranormal and mystery: Cuarto Milenio	Travelling: Nómadas RNE

★ Free online exercises (with answers and explanations):

- Ver-Taal, a very complete site where you will find grammar, spelling and vocabulary exercises, as well as listening activities, to learn French, Dutch, English and, of course, Spanish.
- Espagnol facile, un site web avec des exercices gratuits, spécialement faits pour les francophones

★ Blogs to read about different topics:

If you are a curious person and you like reading about different topics here are some blogs that will help you practice your reading skills in Spanish:

Technology: Gen Beta	Humor: El Hematocrítico El Mundo Today	Gossiping: Pop Rosa:
Business: El blog salmón Pymes y autónomos	Literature: Papel en blanco S de libros	Science: Xataka Ciencia:
Geek: Hello Friki	Blogs and SEO: Ciudadano 2.0	Hobbies: Vis ludica
Cooking: Directo al paladar L'Exquisit Hogar Util Gastronomía & Cía Los fogones de Chus	Travelling: Trotamundeando Viajando por ahí Salta conmigo Diario del viajero	Cinema and TV series: Domingo de cine Vaya tele
Feminism and queer: Ambiente G HULEMS	Miscellaneous: Culturamas Una docena de	Sports:
Personal blogs: Como no ser una drama mamá , where a Spanish girl tells stories about her mom. Viajando por ahí , un blog de relatos de viaje de la mano de una chica argentina.

★ Novels and fiction books:

Sometimes it is hard to find some books that are accessible and not extremely hard if you are not an expert.

My advice: what I do to practice foreign languages is to get a book that I think I might like, and read a translation, not directly the original version. For example, let's say Harry Potter translated into Spanish. It has two advantages: you can access many different types of novels (not just the ones written in Spanish) and also, you will get a more simplified language, but still, you will be learning new things and practicing your Spanish.

If you prefer to go straight to the “real” Spanish books, I suggest to begin with books for children and teenagers. Check out these authors:

- Concha López Narváez (mystery books and thrillers).
- César Fernández García (crime and mystery books).

Check out this site on young novels to find out more.

As for adults books in Spanish. I am not a big expert (I read a lot of foreign literature), but here are some suggestions that I haven’t read but which are supposed to be “easy” and not too bad literature:

- Carlos Ruiz Zafón (Spain).
- María Dueñas (Spain)
- Isabel Allende (Chile)

★ El español coloquial:

- Coloquial.es, an online project that intends to make an approach to colloquial Spanish. It includes a slang dictionary, a dictionary of gestures, and a very complete explanation of what the syntax of colloquial Spanish is like.
- Diccionario de partículas discursivas del español (DPDE), un diccionario de marcadores discursivos (o conectores), para registros coloquiales y formales., que incluye ejemplos, traducción a otros idiomas, reglas de uso, etc.
- Algunas ideas para conocer el español coloquial son:
 - Ver webseries, que podemos encontrar en blip.tv, series.ly o en portales como Youtube.
 - Series españolas o telenovelas (soap operas), como Siete Vidas, Aquí no hay quien viva...
 - Series dobladas al español, sobre todo, comedias como Friends, Frasier...
 - Hablar con españoles
 - Programas de humor

★ Listening to the Spanish radio:

There are many radio stations in Spain: SER, Onda Cero, RNE, and so on.

For music, if you like to listen what’s on and hear the greatest hits of the moment, I suggest that you listen 40 Principales; if you are more nostalgic, I suggest Onda Melodia or Kiss FM; for rock music, ROCK FM is a great option, and for “non commercial” music (indie, jazz, world music, flamenco...) Radio 3 is the best choice. If you prefer classical music, Radio 2 or Radio Clásica is definitely your channel.

If you want independent news and analysis, I always recommend SER radio channel, particularly the morning show, Hoy por hoy, or other shows like Hora 25 or La ventana. They have also some shows on soccer, like El larguero and Carrousel Deportivo, which are good for soccer fans (not me).

Finally, Spanish public radio is called Radio Nacional de España (RNE). It has good stuff and bad stuff, and it includes five channels:

- 1. Radio Nacional or Radio 1. A general channel, that includes all kinds of programs...Everything except music). I particularly recommend No es un día cualquiera.
- 2. Radio Clásica or Radio 2. A channel focused mainly on classical music, including broadcasting of concerts and music from films.
- 3. Radio 3. A great channel that is focused mostly on music of different types, which are classified in different programs or sections: rock, pop, jazz, blues, flamenco, fado, hip hop, world music,

Brazilian music... You can find anything except greatest hits and commercial music. También tiene algunos programas que no son de música esencialmente.

- 4. Radio 4. A channel from Catalunya and broadcasted entirely in Catalan.
- 5. Radio 5. News and similar. Great if you want to be updated, you can listen to it at any moment.

Of course, you can easily find and download all the podcasts on the RNE website.

★ Television and TV series:

I am not a big fan of TV, but I admit it may be a great way to practice.

Check out the official website of RTVE (Spanish public radio), where you can watch many different programs on demand. I recommend:

- . Redes (science)
- . Salvados (political debates and news, in an independent way)
- . El objetivo
- . Telediario (the news)
- . La noche temática (good documentaries), ...and the documentary section, overall.

★ Recommended grammar/vocab books to learn and to practice:

- Gramática didáctica del español, de Gómez Torrego (Ed.SM), for advanced students who want to get deeper into the language. Check it out on Scribd
- DELE: los mejores son los de DELE, de la editorial Edelsa, en los diferentes niveles: B1, B2, A2, C1, etc. There's also Las claves del DELE, that I also recommend. If you are thinking about doing the DELE exams, these are your books.
- Moreno García, Concha (et al.), 2007, Gramática B1, Madrid, Anaya.
- Moreno García, Concha (et al.), 2007, Gramática B2, Madrid, Anaya.

★ Newspapers and magazines:

Free newspapers, easy to read: 20 MINUTOS Metro	Revistas culturales: Muy Interesante Yorokubu Quo Jot Down
Viajes: National Geographic Viajes
Newspapers: El País (the best newspaper in Spain) Expansión (noticias económicas). El Economista (noticias económicas). El Confidencial, publicado solo online. Diario Clarín (Argentina). La Vanguardia	Gossiping and miscellaneous: Hola Semana Pronto Clara
Historia y arte: La aventura de la historia National Geographic Historia	Soccer: Marca AS Mundo deportivo

★ TV Series:

There are not great TV series that you can watch in Spanish. If I had to choose one, I would recommend El ministerio del tiempo. If you don't mind watching soap operas, then you can watch a lot of stuff from different countries: Mexico, Spain, Venezuela, Argentina, Colombia...

My advice is this. As with fiction books, I usually watch American series dubbed in other languages (French, for example), in order to practice. On one hand, this way is slightly easier to understand; on the other hand, Spanish series are not too interesting.

To watch free series on streaming you can check out seriespepito.to. There you can search a series you like and click one of the suggested links. Normally you have the chance to choose between "dubbed" in Spanish or original version with Spanish subtitles. Of course, you can also get series and movies dubbed in Spanish by going to Amazon or iTunes.

(d).More advice

some advice for students

★ Get a tandem or language exchange. You can do just a conversation exchange or a lesson exchange. You can do it through sites like Couchsurfing or BeWelcome, and even online, via Skype, at iTalki. If you live in Spain, you can do it through tusclasesparticulares.com or lingobongo. All you have to do is to register and publish a quick add asking for someone to join you.

★ Haz consumo colaborativo:
Couchsurfing, Hospitality Club and BeWelcome... ¡Por supuesto! You can travel around the world and stay with people and you can receive Spaniards and Latin American people at your place. You can even exchange recipes, talk and know about other cultures. Also, there are options like covoiturage, carsharing or Blabla Car, which let you travel in a cheap way and meet people at the same time. Also, if you dare, hitchhiking might be a good option!

★ Make use of the Internet!

Make use of all the tools and resources that the Internet can offer you, from online tandems to free exercises, flashcards, blogs, podcasts and so on.

★ Have a boyfriend, girlfriend, husband, wife... From a Spanish speaking country. If not, friends can help also very much.

★ Be passionate about learning. Learning Spanish can open you a whole experience. Spanish is the second most spoken language in the world. Get to know new movies, books, music and many more in Spanish. You will be able to communicate with millions of people and to discover a beautiful language. Try to motivate yourself! It's the best way to learn!

★ Eat with other people... A great way to approach different dishes and cuisines and exchange recipes and also a fantastic way to meet new people and speak in Spanish. Check out Eat With, or Cookflat.

★ Markets!

If you are in Spain, for example (living or travelling), don't miss the chance to visit real markets. It's not just a wonderful experience (markets are beautiful, authentic and with great products); it is also a way "to force" yourself to speak, since you cannot just grab your stuff and pay, but instead you have to talk to the grocer and ask him/her tomatoes or cheese.

★ Watch films, series or documentaries on Youtube!

★ Travel!

One of the best ways to learn, and you have so many Spanish-speaking countries to discover!

★ Listen to podcasts and radio programs!

There's no excuse ;)

★ Read books in Spanish

Start off with easy stuff and then go for more complicated things.

★ Do cultural activities!

Si vives en ciudades como Madrid o Barcelona, hay mil actividades para hacer, desde salir a cenar o de fiesta, hasta miles de actividades culturales. Merece la pena ver sitios como Caixa Forum, La Casa Encendida, La Tabacalera o, por supuesto, los museos importantes, como El Prado, Caixa Forum.

e).The Spanish world

culture bites

★ Variedades del español:

- A documentary on the Andalusia dialect:

★ Poesía:

- A media voz: poesía de poetas famosos en español
- Poemario, a radio show on poetry.

★ Libros recomendados:

Fáciles o medio fáciles:

- Laura Esquivel, Como agua para chocolate
- Carmen Martín Gaité, Caperucita en Manhattan
- Isabel Allende, La casa de los espíritus
- María Dueñas, El tiempo entre costuras
- Julia Navarro, Dime quién soy
- Javier Moro, El imperio eres tú

Clásicos difíciles, pero MARAVILLOSOS:

- Benito Pérez Galdós, Fortunata y Jacinta
- Cervantes, Don Quijote
- Gabriel García Márquez, Ojos de perro azul
- Cortázar, Rayuela
- Gabriel García Márquez, Cien años de soledad
- Jorge Luis Borges, Ficciones

★ Trucos:

- Frases hechas para Erasmus en apuros
- Otra

★ Cocina y gastronomía:

- Recommended books: 1080 recetas de cocina, by Simone Ortega.
- Blogs, like: Directo al paladar , L'Exquisit , Hogar Util , Gastronomía & Cía.
- If you like in Madrid, check out cooking courses at Librería A punto.
- Of course, videotutorials on Youtube channel

★ Documentales:

- Comprar, tirar, comprar. un documental sobre la obsolescencia programada
- Serie documental sobre el famoso restaurante El Bulli y el chef Ferrán Adrià
- Frágil equilibrio

★ Cortometrajes:

- En Madrid no hay playa (es del amigo de una amiga mía ;)
- Dos tomates y un destino. (muy divertido).
- Éramos pocos.
- Hablando en plata:
- La concejala antropófaga
- Simiocracia

★ Películas:

There are lots of good movies in Spanish. Check them out!

(Ordered from oldest to the most recent). My favorite ones are in bold:

- Bienvenido Mr. Marshall (España)
- Relatos Salvajes (Argentina)
- Fresa y chocolate (Cuba)
- La comunidad (España)
- El hijo de la novia (Argentina)
- Tacones lejanos (España)
- Mujeres al borde de un ataque de nervios (España)
- El hombre de al lado (Argentina)
- Amores Perros (México)
- Como agua para chocolate (México)
- Abre los ojos (España)
- Mar adentro (España)
- Martín Hache (Argentina/España).

- REC (España)
- El hombre de al lado (Argentina)
- No habrá paz para los malvados (España)
- El Orfanato (España)
- La isla mínima (España)
- Relatos Salvajes (Argentina).
- Truman (España)
- El club (Chile)
- El ciudadano ilustre (Argentina).

★ Música en español:

- Pop/rock en español:
 - Pop/rock indie: Zoe, Lori Meyers, Javiera Mena, Ellos, Love Of Lesbian, Vetusta Morla, Pastora, Los secretos, etc.
 - Pop de moda: La Oreja de Van Gogh, Juanes, Maná, Dani Martín, Efecto Mariposa, etc.
 - Rock español más clásico (de los años 90), como Extremoduro, Héroes del Silencio, Bunbury, Loquillo y los Trogloditas, Mago de Oz, Fito y los Fitipaldis...
 - Música de la movida española y los años 80: Alaska y los Pegamoides, Hombres G, etc.
 - Rock argentino: Sumo, Gustavo Cerati, Dividos, Las Pelotas, Andrés Calamaro...
 - Divas y música petarda: Fangoria, La Prohibida, Mónica Naranjo, Marta Sánchez.
 - Muy underground: L-Kan, Chico y Chica, Putilatex, La Prohibida...
- Hip Hop: La Mala Rodríguez, Violadores del Verso, Cuarto Poder, Nach, Shotta..
- Flamenco: Tomatito, Camarón, Paco de Lucía, Estrella Morente, etc.
- Músicas de la Península Ibérica: Fetén Fetén, La musgaña, María del Mar Bonet, Javier Limón..
- Boleros: Los Panchos, Antonio Machín, Javier Solís...
- Corridos y rancheras mexicanas: Rocío Dúrla, Pedro Infante, Agustín Lara, Javier Solís...
- Clásica: Concierto de Aranjuez, Manuel de Falla, Enrique Granados, Suite Iberia...

★ Conocer Madrid:

CONTINUARÁ / TO BE CONTINUED

